A horse attached to a cart belonging to Mr Branch, butcher, of Autumn St. Ashby, bolted from opposite the Phoenix Hotel. A man who was crossing the street at the time was nearly knocked over. As the runaway was passing the store of Messrs Dalgety, Ibbotson & Co., Mr Edward SPARROW ran along side the horse, caught hold of the reins and gradually stopped the animal in its headlong flight. The feat was performed in a very cool manner, and the timely stoppage of the horse saved perhaps property and life.
