FOURTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

COMMITTEE OF MANAGEMENT

OF THE

Geelong Infirmary and Benevolent Asylum,
TO THE SUBSCRIBERS.

JANUARY, 1856.

ON the occasion of presenting their last Report, your Committee had reason to apprehend, that from lack of funds the doors of your Institution would have to be closed against the further admission of patients and inmates; your Committee, therefore, feel that they have twofold cause for gratitude to the Almighty disposer of events, for that not only has such a catastrophe as was apprehended been averted, but the Institution has continued its operations with unimpaired usefulness, as shewn by the number of persons who have received its aid during the past year.

As shown in the last Report, 72 persons remained in the institution on 1st January, 1855; 49 in the Infirmary, and 23 in the Benevolent Asylum. During the past year, 350 persons have been admitted: 323 to the Infirmary, and 27 to the Benevolent Asylum, making 422 persons who have been treated in the house during the year. Of this number, 280 were discharged cured, or considerably relieved, from the Infirmary; 51 died; and 41 remained in the Infirmary on 1st January, 1856. 16 left the Benevolent Asylum of their own accord, 7 died, and 27 remained in the Benevolent Asylum on the 1st January, 1856; or altogether, 68 in the institution. 169 out-patients have received medical advice and medicine during the year.

Your Committee, as in previous years, in reference to the number of deaths that has occurred, think it right to remark that the mortality must necessarily bear a large proportion to the number of admissions, in consequence of known incurable cases admitted, to linger a few months. And of persons absolutely dying being admitted. For instance, some have died a few hours after admission. And in two cases, not accidents, the patients died within five minutes after admission.

Your Committee is happy to report, that the benefits of your Institution continue to be extended to persons of every sect of religion, thus proving the universality of its operations.

The system of admitting patients by printed tickets, issued to subscribers, has been found to work very well; and with the exception of increasing the number of tickets given to ten guinea subscribers, your Committee do not propose any alteration in the system.

Your Committee are gratified at being enabled to report the improvement to the building, which has been effected by the completion, in accordance with the original design of the two wings, which have at once increased the architectural attractions of the building, and greatly enlarged its accommodation. To complete the original design, a portico is now only required; and by having returned to the building fund, a sum of £1500, which, in the beginning of the year, was borrowed for maintenance. Arrangements have been made for completing this work, as well as repairs to the building, and thorough drainage of the premises: a matter of most serious import, involving much expense. There being now ample accommodation, your Committee trust that the income of the Institution, derived from the subscriptions of the public, will be so liberal as to make it available to those who may require its aid.

With a view to the production of the vegetables required for the use of the Institution, a large portion of the five acre allotment, on which the building stands, was trenched, and planted with potatoes; and although the first crop does not promise to be very abundant, there is every reason to hope that hereafter the cultivation of the ground will be a great saving of expenditure. But the cultivation of the ground is also a point of much importance, as greatly increasing the comfort and healthy enjoyment of convalescent patients and inmates, and your Committee would remark, that presents of trees, or seeds for the formation of a belt of trees, around the ground, would be very acceptable.

The accounts of receipt and expenditure, have been audited by Messss. McKellar and Ibbotson, and an abstract will be read to you. As is usual, a detailed statement of every item of expenditure has been prepared for your inspection. It will be seen, that the receipts have been £10,270 10s. 5d., and the expenditure, £8,366 9s. 11d., so that, making provision for the various works already alluded to, a balance of £404 0s. 6d. remains in favour of the Institution. The cause which has mainly contributed to recruit the finances of the Institution, was the receipt of a considerable sum of money, assigned by Government to the Institution, after solicitations by deputations and correspondence, from a fund which had accumulated during a series of years, from the unclaimed proceeds of the sale of impounded cattle. And your Committee consider that thanks are due to the Government, also to the Legislative Council, who voted £1500 for the Institution, for the liberal assistance rendered. The mere annual amount of the fund alluded to, cannot, however, be great, and your Committee do not expect that such source of income can be depended on; and as the expenses of the Institution for maintenance alone, are necessarily great, being nearly £106 per week, or £440 a-month, each patient costing, on an average, £13 1s. 6d., which will absorb the balance in hand in about the space of one month; it must depend on the continued liberal support of the public to be continued in its present state of usefulness.

Your Committee take this opportunity of thanking publicly, all who have rendered effective aid to the Institution, by large contributions raised by dramatic performances, concerts, &c.

The thanks of the subscribers are also due to the Honorary Medical Officers, who have acted during the past year.

Your Committee, before closing their Report, cannot but express their extreme regret, that the late Resident Surgeon, Mr. Rock, found it necessary, from ill-health, to resign the appointment. Mr. Rock had always given the most perfect satisfaction in his management of the Institution, and he deserves the warmest thanks the Committee can express. Doctor W. P. Geoghegan, a gentleman, having had long and extensive experience in the management of similar institutions, has been elected in Mr. Rock's stead.

In conclusion, your Committee express a hope, that their management during the past year has met with your approval, and now resign the management of the Institution into your hands.
