No conclusive identification of Mary McCann has been traced.

Ref from p 44 Seaton, Gladys 'Model Borough'

'The Misses McCann's ladies' school is listed in the Geelong and Western District directory 1882-83 as being on the south side of Aphrasia St. This was Clifton House, Newtown hill of the 1888 advertisement in which combined with a moral and physical training, sound teaching to matriculation was guaranteed. Miss McCann was assisted by 'teachers of tested ability.'

[Reference in advertisements to the school name being Clifton House Ladies' College]

The Morrow Advertiser indexes give the following information.

'On 1.1.1889 the school moved to temporary premises at Riljajag, Latrobe Tce and was moving mid-year to Knowle House.'

[Knowle House had long been used as educational premises. The Geelong College and Geelong Grammar both began on this site.]

On 7.8.1889 [Miss] Annie McCann aged 54 died at Knowle House. Her death notice in GA 8.8.1889 states this was from heart disease but gives no family information. The parents listed for Mary are those stated on Annie's death registration. The McCann families in Geelong were mainly Scottish [Presbyterian] or Irish [Catholic]. Annie is buried alone in the C of E section of Eastern Cemetery.

In the GA of 8.8.1889 an advertisement for the school [now Newtown Ladies' College] named the teachers for dancing and calisthenics. Mary McCann is listed in 1892 rates as schoolmistress and owner of 2-storey school room and gymnasium [situated at Knowle House adjacent to 2 Skene St.]

Knowle House was listed for auction on 12.12.1893 but there is no evidence this is linked with the possible death of Mary. [The Misses Clanchy began their Central College at Knowle House, 1895.]

No evidence of Mary McCann's school has been traced beyond 1893.

Reasons for this could include:

* the recession of the 1890s

* the rise of free government education introduced in 1878 [nearby Flinders National School was an alternative option]

* a number of similar private [girls'] schools eg that of Miss Ann Caroline Harris in neighbouring Elizabeth [now Roebuck] St [subsequently Morongo]

* she was probably the only 'Miss McCann' left and may have married [unlikely], died, retired or worked in another school.

No conclusive identification of Mary McCann has been traced and no likely record of her death has been found on Victorian indexes.

	Spouse	GRIFFIN, William John - married 1904	Place	North Brighton, Victoria

One of 10 children born Ballarat then Geelong.

Maud's father was a councillor with Newtown and Chilwell 1869-1904 and served three terms as Mayor between 1887 and 1900.

His nursery, Mercer's Hill Garden, at the corner of Noble and Wallace streets operated for about thirty years. Miles Street and perhaps Wallace St may be named to recognise his contribution to the municipality.

Three children born to Maud and William at Carlton 1905-1911.

From 'Streets of Geelong', unpublished database by Bill Morrow & Ian Wynd:

Miles Street: Originally called Stanley Street on early maps. This street, below Moorak Park, Noble Street, commemorates the name of W.W. Miles, thrice mayor of Newtown & Chilwell. He was the proprietor of nursery in Noble Street.

Wallace Street: In 1869 William Wallace Miles was advertising in his full name his Mercer's Hill Nursery, Noble Street. Miles later was thrice mayor of Newtown and Chilwell and as his nursery was on the south side in the vicinity of Moorak Park it is probable that on subdivision his surname was given to the easternmost street whilst a family name 'Wallace' was given to the westernmost street. The Christian name William had long been taken up in the same municipality.

p. 138 - The minister in charge at the time the church [United Methodist Free Church] was erected [c1878] is an exception, however, as is his wife: 'Mrs Miller was also a good worker in the Church and school, and it was through her generosity that the school building was freed of debt'.

Alexander born 1842 Aberdeen, Scotland [ref Aust Dictionary of Biography], died unmarried 1914. He is listed as the ratepayer 1890-91 at Rannoch House [NW cnr Skene/Pakington Sts] although the property included the adjacent area now St John's Lutheran School. Listed cnr Aberdeen/Pakington in 1912 directory. Through diligence, integrity and his Christian ethos he amassed a substantial estate from drapery stores in Geelong and other country locations. He was generous in his lifetime and beyond through the Miller Bequest which continues to provide housing for elderly people in need [Miller Homes] as well as public art eg statuary. There are several other references to him are in local history publications.

Bathia [?Bethia] born Forfarshire, Scotland abt 1851 died 1874 aged 23 Geelong.

[Twin] Grace Ross born 1853 Sydney [bapt Wesleyan] marr John Adams 1882 died Geelong 1905 aged 48. [Grace may be Grace R ADAMS who signed petition from Hotham Hill on Page 707 Line 8]

Emily Caroline b 1859 Ashby d 1860 Ashby.

Ann/ie Martha born/died 1861 Ashby.

No evidence of any descendants from any of this family.

The ADB reference to Alexander says that his father William preceded his wife and children to Australia.

There is a row of five family graves in the Western Cemetery.

Met 1/22 - Alexander [alone]

Met 1/23 - William died 1903, Annie, their daughter Maggie James and three SHACKLEY infants [parents John SHACKLEY / Sarah DIXON] 1860, 1869 and 1871

Met 1/24 - John Campbell MILLER [alone]

Met 1/25 - Emily, Ann and Bathia MILLER and their sister Grace ADAMS

Met 1/26 - Thomas MILLER [alone]

Between the signatures of Annie and her daughter Maggie are those of Maggie [LINDSAY] MELVILLE and her daughter Fanny. Maggie MELVILLE's mother was Margaret SUTHERLAND and it is possible that the MILLER and MELVILLE women were related.

Following the signature of Annie is that of Mary [MILLER] FRASER who may be a relative - possibly her husband's niece and a cousin to her daughter Maggie.

On rates entries Mary FRASER appears to be a near neighbour to Annie and family.

The MOORFOOT family following have been the most complex group due to duplication of given names and ways Moorfoot is spelt - everything from Morphett to Murfitt.

There seem to have been three brothers in Vic - Thomas [and Emma] around St Arnaud, John [and Sarah] who with family emigrated from Newfoundland, Canada [see The Geelong Americans] also Michael [and Emma] both in Geelong but children born previously at Cathcart [near Ararat].

The MOORFOOT men in Bendigo Street 1891/2 are Arthur, George, Michael [2] and William. Michael [father] also appears as Frederick in regs [perhaps depends on which parent did it]. A child born to one name died soon after and other name used. The burials are also very mixed but indicate the families were related.
