Marjorie LAWRENCE:

"Marjorie became a famous Australian opera singer. Her career was launched in 1928 when she won an aria contest at the Geelong Musical Festival. Soon after she went to Paris to study singing and made her debut at the Paris Opera House in Lohengrin in less than 5 years. In 1935 she sang Brunnhilde in Die Walkure at the New York Metropolitan Opera. Triumph followed triumph until she was suddenly struck down with polio which left her partly paralysed. Her story is one of fortitude and indomitable courage, of husbandly devotion and a hard won victory to be able to sing again. She died in 1979.

Notice in the Geelong Advertiser: a claim for adverse possession of land Thomas St cnr Gertrude [west side]. Last owner [in the 1890s!] William STOTT. Out of curiosity I went to have a look and a house facing Gertrude St was for sale and the driveway off Thomas St abutted other properties before leading to a garage. I would think this was the family property. William the eldest and his next brother Walter were gold dealers then jewellers in Geelong having come from mining in the Morrisons area. [Robert who married Jane MOLYNEUX was the fourth brother].

Widowed 1893 when son Charles was an infant. No living descendants. Lived while married in Wellington St next to Cox family. Jane's brother Edwin had married Annie Perriton. She lived with them after being widowed. A very kind and caring person who worked hard to 'earn her keep' and was much loved by the family. Strong Methodist Church connections - organist for many years. Her greatest extravagance was to buy or refurbish a hat each season which had to look elegant from the back which was the view seen by the congregation.
